THE REGGAE OF REMORSE

If there can be a reggae equivalent to Rick James and Teena Marie, it is Mutti Lewis and his bassist-vocalist Wexley Taylor, right down to their respective hairstyles. That's a good thing, considering we lost half of the first pair. Unlike the first natty pimp, Lewis doesn't have a song about Mary Jane. His reggae is about love, remorse and healing, specifically after 9/11. Lewis (and Taylor, they say) will appear with Don Minot and the High Voltage Band. Toad's Place, 300 York St. 8:30pm, doors 7pm. $8.50 advance, $10. door. 624-TOAD.
